The Summary of the Movie Script

In a vast farmhouse in Rhode Island in 1971, the Perron family, consisting of husband and wife Roger and Carolyn Perron and their five daughters, had just moved into their stunning new home. Initially, an atmosphere of excitement and hope filled their new home, but happiness quickly turned to tension as strange events began to unfold around them. Strange sounds, mysterious shadows, and a sense of unseen presence began to haunt the family, triggering deep fear and anxiety.

Andrea Perron, the eldest daughter of the family, witnessed and became a direct victim of the disturbing supernatural activity. She witnessed frightening apparitions and heard unexplainable sounds, which convinced her even more that their new home was inhabited by evil and terrifying forces. In an effort to seek answers to the mystery threatening her family's safety, Carolyn decided to seek help from paranormal experts.

Renowned paranormal investigators, Ed and Lorraine Warren, were invited to investigate the troubled Perron home. Using scientific tools and their extraordinary instincts, Ed and Lorraine entered the house filled with dark and frightening aura. They discovered that the house was a place where tragic events and crimes occurred, and an evil force was trapped within, waiting to unleash terror on anyone who dared to set foot inside.

As the investigation continued, Ed and Lorraine found that the Perron family was in real danger, and they had to act quickly to protect them from the unseen threat. Using their knowledge of the supernatural world and their belief in the power of love and goodness, the couple began to battle the darkness threatening to destroy the Perron family. In a journey full of risks and uncertainties, they faced demons from the past trying to destroy them. However, with strong determination and unwavering courage, Ed and Lorraine Warren were determined to drive out the evil force and bring peace back to the home disturbed by darkness.
